

Scott Raymond

Vice President, Retail and Delivery Operations—Atlantic Area

Scott Raymond was named vice president, Retail and Delivery Operations, Atlantic Area, in December 2022, a role he has acted in since October 2022. He reports to the chief retail and delivery officer and executive vice president.

In this role, Raymond oversees 12 districts, 128,000 employees, 8,600 Post Offices and 35.6 million delivery points.

He recently served as the Atlantic Area's senior logistics director, a post he held since March 2021. In this role, Raymond directed regional logistics operations, programs and processes, including air and surface transportation routes, while ensuring timeliness and utilization of all network assets to meet established targets. He has also held numerous leadership positions with the Postal Service including operations support manager for the former Capital Metro Area; processing operations manager for Headquarters; Atlantic District manager; and Mid-Carolinas senior plant manager.

He began with the Postal Service in 1993 as a mail processor at the Dulles Processing and Distribution Center in Sterling, Virginia. Before his executive appointments, Raymond served as the plant manager at the Suburban Processing and Distribution Center in Gaithersburg, Maryland, and worked in various detail positions in both mail processing and customer service including senior manager, distribution operations at the Northern Virginia Processing and Distribution Center, and officer-in-charge at the Vienna Main Post Office, Oakton Branch, and Dunn Loring Station in Virginia.

Raymond has received six Area Vice President Awards for Superior Achievements; and under his leadership, operations have attained national recognition for outstanding service performance.

In addition to serving with the United States Navy for five years, Raymond studied business management at the Northern Virginia Community College, is a graduate of the Executive Leadership Program, Executive Foundations I and II, Advanced Leadership Program, Processing and Distribution Management Program, Senior Executive Assessment and Development Center leadership program, Operational Leadership Excellence, and is certified as a Lean Six Sigma Executive Green Belt.