

USPS OPERATION SANTA™

The U.S. Postal Service® will be bringing the magic of the holidays to children everywhere by lending a helping hand to the hard workers of the North Pole!

USPS Operation Santa™ | Legacy Program

This year marks the 106th year of the USPS Operation Santa™ program.

Since 1912, postal employees, charities, individual and corporate volunteers have helped children in need experience the magic of the holidays by adopting their letters sent to Santa.

Beginning Dec. 3, customers wanting to “adopt” letters in person can find participating locations at usps.com/holidaynews.

The largest program is located at the James A. Farley Post Office in Manhattan.

USPS Operation Santa™ | Digital Program | delivercheer.com

In 2017, USPS Operation Santa™ went digital and moved online to delivercheer.com in a pilot program in NYC. Individuals wanting to adopt letter could go online, adopt the letter and bring a gift or letter to the James A. Farley Post Office in Manhattan to mail them.

This year, the Postal Service is expanding the program to six additional cities in a volume test. Beginning, Dec. 3, customers in the following cities can adopt letters to Santa online at delivercheer.com and mail gifts ONLY at the post offices listed below:
