COOPERSTOWN, NY—Today's official first-day-of-issue dedication ceremony for the Major League Baseball All-Stars Forever stamps at the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum in Cooperstown, NY, was the first of five ceremonies taking place in the cities where four of baseball's most iconic legends built their careers.

Orders for the stamps prior to their issuance have exceeded more than two million Stamps Batted In (SBI). The Major League Baseball All-Stars Forever stamps honor Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yankees; Larry Doby of the Cleveland Indians; Willie Stargell of the Pittsburgh Pirates and Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox.

"Today the Postal Service honors the memory of four great players whose unchanging dreams and exceptional skills propelled them to success," said Postmaster General Patrick Donahoe in dedicating the stamps. "Our Major League Baseball All-Stars Forever Stamps salute the accomplishments of Ted Williams, Larry Doby, Willie Stargell and Joe DiMaggio—truly remarkable men. We're pleased to honor baseball and these four excellent players, especially since the sport reflects so much of what is unique in American culture."

Joining Donahoe in dedicating the stamps was Hall of Famer Tony "Mr. Padre" Gwynn; Willie Stargell's wife Margaret Weller-Stargell; Larry Doby's son, Larry Doby Jr.; a granddaughter of Joe DiMaggio, Kathie Stein; National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum Chairman, Jane Forbes Clark; U.S. Postal Service Board of Governors member Louis Giuliano and Brian Kenny of the Major League Baseball Television Network.

Responding to customer demand, in addition to the sheet of 20 stamps depicting all four players dedicated in Cooperstown and available nationwide today, the Postal Service will issue limited quantities of individual stamp sheets honoring each player at select Post Offices in their team's cities at www.usps.com/play-ball beginning tomorrow.

The SBI competition began in April. Williams was leading throughout the spring and summer until DiMaggio fans took over the lead late last week with a ninth inning come-from-behind play to bat in the needed orders to edge ahead.

July 21 First-Day-of-Issue dedication ceremonies

Larry Doby, Cleveland, OH

Joe DiMaggio

Joe DiMaggio (1914-1999) was admired for his skill and grace as a fielder and base runner. The Yankee Clipper is best known for his incredible 56-game hitting streak in 1941—the season of “The Streak.” DiMaggio led the New York Yankees to ten pennants and nine World Series titles.

Larry Doby

Larry Doby (1923-2003) was the first African-American to play in the American League, joining the Cleveland Indians shortly after Jackie Robinson broke the color barrier in the National League. The seven-time All-Star excelled as a hitter and center fielder and set an American League outfielder record for 164 consecutive errorless games.

Willie Stargell

Willie Stargell (1940-2001) powered the 1979 Pittsburgh Pirates to a World Series title. Hitting 475 home runs during his career, the seven-time National League All-Star is famous for smashing baseballs out of stadiums.

Ted Williams

Ted Williams (1918-2002) of the Boston Red Sox served during World War II and the Korean War. The last Major League player to bat over .400 for a single season, in 1941, Williams won six American League batting titles and four home run titles. Despite breaks in his career, Williams hit .344 over 19 years, including 521 home runs.

A self-supporting government enterprise, the U.S. Postal Service is the only delivery service that reaches every address in the nation — 151 million residences, businesses and Post Office Boxes. The Postal Service receives no tax dollars for operating expenses, and relies on the sale of postage, products and services to fund its operations. With 32,000 retail locations and the most frequently visited website in the federal government, usps.com, the Postal Service has annual revenue of more than $65 billion and delivers nearly 40 percent of the world's mail. If it were a private sector company, the U.S. Postal Service would rank 35th in the 2011 Fortune 500. In 2011, Oxford Strategic Consulting ranked the U.S. Postal Service number one in overall service performance of the posts in the top 20 wealthiest nations in the world. Black Enterprise and Hispanic Business magazines ranked the Postal Service as a leader in workforce diversity. The Postal Service has been named the Most Trusted Government Agency for six years and the sixth Most Trusted Business in the nation by the Ponemon Institute.
