New Member Appointed to Citizens' Stamp Advisory Committee

WASHINGTON — The U.S. Postal Service today announced the appointment of Susana Rodriguez de Tembleque, a technology executive and creative director, to the Citizens' Stamp Advisory Committee, or CSAC.

Members are appointed by the postmaster general to provide expertise in business, history, science, technology, art, education, sports and other areas of public interest. Working together, they make recommendations for future stamp subjects.

Rodriguez de Tembleque serves as the vice president of design for IBM's data platform. In this role, she focuses on crafting a user-friendly experience, ensuring that IBM's AI data products provide trusted, clear and contextual insights in real time.

Previously, she served as vice president of design for IBM Research, where she built and led a multidisciplinary organization focused on delivering an exceptional and distinctive end-to-end experience.

Before her time at IBM Research, she was vice president and executive brand director for IBM Watson, overseeing the brand's expression across products, marketing and communications.

Rodriguez de Tembleque has also held the position of creative director of retail at Apple, where she played a key role in developing Today at Apple, a global initiative that transformed the technology giant's stores into spaces for learning, creativity and connection.

Originally from Madrid, Rodriguez de Tembleque is based in New York City. She is the mother of four children, ages 19 to 25.

Submitting Stamp Suggestions

Because of the time required for research and approval in the stamp selection process, ideas for stamp subjects should be received at least three years prior to the proposed issuance. Each submission should include pertinent historical information and important dates associated with the subject. Proposals must be in writing and submitted by U.S. Mail. No in-person appeals, phone calls or emails are accepted. Mail your suggestion (one topic per letter) to the address below:
