U.S. Postal Service To Observe Thanksgiving Holiday, Nov. 26

Self-service options are available in many retail lobbies when Post Offices are closed

WASHINGTON — The U.S. Postal Service will observe the Thanksgiving federal holiday on Thursday, November 26. All Post Office locations will be closed. Regular mail delivery and retail services will resume on Friday, November 27.

Additional information on the Postal Service's preparations for the upcoming holiday season, including information on investments in new processing and tracking technology, is available on our Newsroom.

With more holidays just around the corner, customers are reminded that when Post Offices are closed, they can still visit usps.com to order stamps and free USPS boxes, and to access services such as Hold Mail, Change of Address, PO Box rental or renewal, and Click-N-Ship to print pre-paid labels. In addition, self-service kiosks are available in select lobbies nationwide. These kiosks feature:

- Postage printing for Priority Mail, Priority Mail Express and international shipping;
- Stamps for purchase;
- Ability to weigh and mail packages; and
- Package tracking information.

As USPS modernizes its retail locations, more self-service options are becoming available at more locations and may include:

- Rapid Dropoff Stations for customers who have already created and printed labels online;
- An option for customers to print shipping labels from a merchant-provided QR code; and
- USPS Smart Lockers that allow customers to both drop off and pick up packages.

Many self-service kiosks are available 24/7, offering customers flexibility and convenience even when Post Offices are closed.
