Note: Postcards (privately printed cards) did not qualify for a special postage rate until July 1, 1898. Since then, the rates for postcards have been the same as for stamped cards (produced by the Postal Service) except for the period from April 15, 1925, to July 1, 1928. On January 10, 1999, the Postal Service increased the price of stamped cards (formerly called "postal cards") to one penny more than the postage rate in order to pay for the paper and printing of the card. The additional charge increased to two cents on January 7, 2001, to three cents on May 12, 2008, to four cents on January 27, 2013, and to five cents on August 29, 2021. In 1994, in addition to regular stamped cards, the Postal Service began selling higher-cost premium stamped cards, with collectible artwork.
